

Dear parents of aspiring guitar players,

If your son or daughter has a desire to play guitar, lessons are available at Wheaton Academy on select days after school.

The goal of guitar lessons is to enable students to play guitar in a variety of musical genres, focusing on the music they want to play. Specific assignments are made according to the teacher's discretion, but if students have specific projects (e.g. college auditions, songwriting, playing with a band, etc.), lessons can be allocated toward those goals.

I have taught a variety of musical styles to over 50 students the past 20 years and teach students how to accompany themselves and also how to play within the context of a band. I have experience playing guitar with a variety of bands, led a number of worship teams, and have supervised high school worship teams for the past 20 years (I'm a Worship Team coach at Wheaton Academy). I am enthusiastic about helping your son or daughter play the kinds of music they would like to play and develop a passion for playing guitar that will continue throughout their lifetime.

If you have any questions or would like to inquire about a time slot, please contact me at either ejasper@wheatonacademy.org or at 630-520-1478. My guitar policies are stated below.

Thank you,
Evan Jasper
